The Avalanche of June 25th contains the following:

But few events of an exciting character oc-curred. The old Richmond story about a terrible battle has been revamped until its patrons have given it up but not until dates the 20th have been received, which dates failed to confirm their reported advantages. The reported taking of Vicksburg was not confirmed by dispatches to the commander of the post. The Union meeting in Court Square was not as well attended as was anticipated. At night an adjourned meeting was held at the City hall, at which a full ticket, from Mayor to Chief of Police, was selected. The weather was oppressive business was lively, the streets werethronged, and everything indicated that there was a revival of trade in progress in our midst.

The postoffice, under the popular nanagement of Colonel Markland, is now a iseful institution. The mails come and go regularly, and about the establishment here is an air of energy, life and activity. It is said that there are forty applicants for the office of postmaster, and without disparagement to any of them, we can truly say, that the Government could not be more has reorganized the office and put it in excellent running order.

More Cotton is still finding its way to market. Yesterday the steamer Eugene took up one hundred bales for Louisville, the City of Alton a small lot, and the Mod-erator about three hundred bales for Cincinnati. Scarcely a boat leaves our landing that does not take more or less cotton, and that, too, notwithstanding the military authorities ordered all of it to be burnt

McClellan has too Much to Do to be Troubled by Members of Congress on Sprees. Henry J. Raymond writes from McClellan's camp: If a regularly appointed committee of Congress should visit headquarters, with a view of obtaining information of importance to the public, such a visit might do good, and they would unquestionably meet with a hearty welcome from the Commanding General. But this is not the character of these visits. A member rushes to head-quarters, talks half an hour with Gen. Mc-Clellan, rushes back, and forthwith speaks with authority about the condition of things in the army of the Potomac. All this is very unjust, and seriously and mischievously misleads the public mind. No one who has not spent some time here can understand how thoroughly Gen. McClellan's time and attention are eccupied with his public duties. He examines personally every foot of his works and every part of every foot 62 his works and every part of the rebel ground accessible to his observation. Every earthwork thrown up, every gun mounted, every position taken, every regiment moved, and almost every gun fired are guided by his personal direction. Every hour not spent in the saddle is thus ab-sorbed in receiving reports and giving di-rections to his subordinate Generals, and sny needless trespass upon his time and attention, which are absorbed in these duties, is an injury to the service and the country.

A severe and most determined battle was fought on the right wing Thursday and Friday, which is claimed by some of our officers as a successful strategic movement, into which the enemy had unwillingly been drawn, and which will soon result in the drawn, and which will soon result in the capture of Richmond and the entire rebel army. The attack was made by the enemy in immense force, who crossed the Chiekahominy, near the railroad, above Mechanicsville, Thursday afternoon. He said he represented a constituency of one sentiment on that subject, who were admonishing him in favor of the mast vigorous prosecution of the war. He healared the vote defeating the House bill would ring through the slave regions of the South with a yelf of triumph, like a great microry greater than the defeat of our gray before kichmood. He was sorry to find so many of his fellow Republicans joining hands with Democrats against this just and necessary measure, from a division of sentiment and vindictive feeling arising from no difference of principle.

The outer forces then began to fall back. Porter's corps were some distance below Dr. Gaines' residence.

Of the next day's battle the correspondent says the cannonading and muskery was terrific. Duryea's gallant Zouaves were lying upon the ground for two hours, while our batteries were shelling the woods over them. Finally, towards night, the enemy attempted to break the center line, in front of Duryea's Zouaves.

The musketry firing became terrific, lasting twenty or thirty minutes. Shortly af-terwards an attempt was made to break through the right, which was repulsed, and half an hour later another attempt was made on the left with the same result. The battle had then been raging for some hours, without any apparent change or advantage on either side. Reinforcements of artillery and infantry then came steadily along over PATENT WATER DRAWER. We have examined the model of a very neat and inge nious water drawer, patented by Messrs. Brown & Kent, May 20, 1862, and one of the articles complete is now working at Gath right's stove store, on Market street, be-tween First and Second streets, where Mr. Joseph Kent, of New Albany, can be seen who will fully explain its operation. The well curb is of the usual pattern but it has a cylindrical windlass with conical ends and so arranged that when the rope is wound round it, in ascending, the bucket is thrown from the centre of the cylinder to the apex of the cone, near the side of the curb. At the same time, a double chain bucket is worked by a lever so as to open the valve and let the water fall into a discharging spout in the side of the curb. If more water is drawn than is required, the surplus is received in a dripping spout and carried back to the well. This prevents the ground from becoming wet in summer and covered with ice in winter. The apparatus is put up, complete, for six dollars, which is not more than fifty cents dearer than a curb without improvements, and when they are attached a child can easily turn the crank and draw water. Mr. Kent is ready to adapt them to any wells, and they strike us as a very great saving of time, labor and trouble. Those whose premises are not fitted with pumps, should not fail to have this new water drawer put up. Having seen this ingenious piece of mechan

STERE LINE BOSS Garden

I WOULD RESPECTFULLY INFORM MY NUmerous friends and the pleasure seeking public in general, that I am fitting up the above Garden in an unsurpassed manner for the convenience of those who would get out of the dust and din of the city.

Strube's Garden is about 13 miles from the Courthouse, on the Fifth street road. I am now putting up two modern built alleys, with all other amusements to be found in a first class Garden. Perfect order will always be observed and a competent police will always be on the grounds to insure those seeking real anusement in peace and quietness.

I will be open ready for the reception of the public on

Change of McClellan's Base and Davis and Farragut's Fleets Communicating .-- Attack on Vicksburg---Van Dorn in Command of Rebels.

From General Curtis' Army.

PHILADELPHIA, June 30. The following is the conclusion of the Baltimore American's account of affairs be fore Richmond: WASHINGTON, June 29.

Since closing my letter from the White House, I find myself in Washington City, and in possession of most reliable information from White House, and other points on the possession of the control of the the Peninsula, nearly a day later than that contained in my letter.

It appears that telegraphic communication between White House and Gen. McClel-lan was not broken at 1 o'clock Saturday, and then the wires were cut at a station 11 mile out. Tunstall's station, four miles out, was in our possession until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, at which hour the operator at White House heard a strange signal coming over the wire; on going to the instrument, he was heralded with what Union soldiers call the rebel national salute: "Say, oh you Yankee." This was the signal given for final evacuation, when a portion of the infantry forces immediately embarked on steam-boats in waiting for them. The last of the transports was moved off by steamtugs, and a few articles scattered about on shore, even some damaged hay, fired. The whole was of very small value, and thus of the many millions of property here a few days ago, perhaps not $5,000 worth was destroyed. In the midst of this the White House was fired and entirely consumed. The enemy made his appearance in considerable force at the White House, at about o'clock on Saturday evening, and although he neither found bread for men or hay for beast, was welcomed with heavy showers of grapeshot from the gunboats, which were ranged along in front of the building. The rebels were supposed to be 30,000 strong.

The cavalry at the White House guarded the departure of the last wagens and horses, which moved off at the Federal evacuation and joined the force of General Stoneman, who were hovering in the vicinity all day After seeing their trains off, and securing their entire safety, General Stoneman, with the entire force, moved off in a direction even a contraband. At 10 o'clock on Saturday morning, Colonel Ingall's and Captain Santelle were before Yorktown with an immense convoy of vessels and steamers, on their way to the new base of operations on James river. They would doubtless move down immediately to Fortress Monroe and await the instructions of General McClellan. A number are already up the James river under the protection of the gunboats. Since an early hour Saturday morning, Gen. McClellan has been deprived of a tele-graphic communication with Washington. He abandoned its use several hours before it was cut, doubtless being fearful that the enemy might, by placing a magnet on the wires, read his orders. Direct communica-tion with Gon. McClellan is now being opened by the gunboats up the mouth of the Chickahominay.

New York, June 30. The New York Herald's report, dated the 27th, states our killed, wounded and missing that day reached 1,200. The object of the movement was to bring

Porter's and other divisions into more close connection with the rest of the army; in fact, changing the front of the whole of our forces, with our center and left pressing on Richmond. It was expected on Saturday. t was a virtual surrender or vacating of a long line of defenses heretofore just up to Mechanicsville. In order to have the whole ow the rebels to follow up, and, if post to bag them, McClellan ordered Gen. Porter to withdraw two miles this side of Gaines' Mills, early on Friday morning, which was done the evening following, the rebels thinking they had gained a victory over our troops, slowly moving back in order, fighting as they went, crossing the Chickahominy, and reached the position designated for their occupation.

The rebels followed in great force, and by three o'clock in the afternoon there was a general and heavy engagement here, last-ing till 7 o'clock, when a lull took place; but the rebels again renewed it with greater ferocity, having been reinforced. Our men stood the unequal contest like heroes, and did fearful execution. Our forces were increased by Generals Slocum's, Palmer's, French's and Meagher's brigades, and the rebels were badly beaten. Meagher's went rolled up, fighting like tigers.

was occupied and held. In the first part of tended against the rebels, but subsequently reinforcements swelled the number to 45,000. The rebels had 60,090 men under Generals Lee, Hill, Anderson and Branck.

Among the killed are Colonel Grove, of the 22d Massachusetts, and Colonel Roberts, of the 1st Michigan. PHILADELPHIA, June 30. The correspondent of the Baltimore American arrives at the following cenclu-sion: The object of General McClellan was abandon White House, and draw in the right wing of his rrmy across the Chickahominy, which he has accomplished with but little loss in comparison with the punishment bestowed on the enemy. Gen. McClellan has also strengthened his position by contracting his lines and changing his base of operations to the James river where he will have the co-operation of the gunboats, and if they attempt to interrupt James river, they will meet with prompt punishment from the gunboats, and so weaken their forces in front of Richmond that the city will fall into his hads with but slight struggle.

MEMPHIS, June 28.

The Grenada Appeal of the 23d learns that the Federal fleet, numbering twenty unboats and mortars, opened fire early that morning on the lower batteries at Vicksburg. The result is not stated. Van Dorn is in command there, having superseded Lovell in command of the department.

A letter in the same paper, from Chattanooga, dated the 16th, says: We have direct news this morning that the enemy is falling back before our advancing column from Powell's Valley to Big Creek Gap. While this was going on, Mitchell is moving in our rear in the vicinity of Battle creak our rear in the vicinity of Battle creek, waiting to fall upon his prey.

The Grenada Appeal of the 25th says General Van Dorn advised all the families of Vicksburg to move eight miles back from the river. He intends to defend the department to the last extremity.

It also says that on Saturday last the Federal mortar fleet, in tow of tug boats, was reported at Grand Gulf, by our batteres. On the same day the gunboats at Vicksburg opened a brisk fire on the batteres, and continued ever an hour without doing injury.

Of affairs in Arkansas, the Appeal says
the rapid movements of General Hindman's forces have almost rid the State of Curtis' army; that they succeeded in driving him back to a position within a short distance of the Missouri line. When our informant left they were still retreating.

Editors Democrat — Gentlemen: During the past two weeks a series of communica-tions have been published in the Journal and Democrat, reflecting censure and disloyalty upon the Board of School Trustees for refusing to pass the amendment to the rules "requiring each teacher to take an oath to support the Constitution of the United States, to discourage, discountenance and sirs, at the last meeting of the board the question came up, was fairly met, and a majority of the members voted in favor of the majority report, with the amendment "instructing the board to elect none but loyal teachers." This amendment, they believed, would cover the whole ground and answar the daired nurses. The teachile answer the desired purpose. The "terrible oath was deemed unnecessary. They april cipated the hearty approval of the moderate and magnanimous Union men—the devoted lovers of our public school system. But wee to them—they neglected to consider the doom which awaited them, in being characterized as TRAITORS in the public prints by those who have sought for years to demolish and wipe out our system. From Gen. McClellan's Army. EXCITEMENT AMONG THE CONFEDERATES-PROF. LOWE'S BALLOON FIRED AT.

We take the following from a letter dated New Bridge, June 28, published in the Philadelphia Inquirer:

For several days the rebels opposite here have been excessively jubilant about something. A brass band played early in the morning, during the day, and sometimes very late, even into the wee small hours of the night. We knew there was some cause for it. We knew they were not yet evacuating, for, from the balloon, we could look down upon them in the open fields and find no change had come over the spirit of their dreams, and that they still expected to hold their ground before Richmond until we attacked them. But gradually we found out what was going on. In the woods above Lewis Hill last Fri-day we heard a report of a heavy gun, a whizz grew louder and louder, and an ex-plosion a mile in the rear of where our Sibley was pitched enabled us to come to the conclusion that the rebels had been mounting heavy guns within range of our tenpound Parrotts. The band was amere piece of braggadocio to get the men to work with a feeling of security. They know our guns could prevent them were we so disposed, so they put on as bold a front as possible—and succeeded. They have felled the woods around the guns, and in front have formed Mantles and Shawls, an abattis by felling the trees crosswise.

One of the guns fired is the siege gun we left on the hill, near the Stone Bridge; one is a 32-pound Parrott gun. And, strange to say, Secesh has really made an improvement in the shape of casting the shot and shell; at least, our artillery officers here say it is an improvement. They make the base of the shell follow, like the bottom of wine-bottle, but the rim runs out thin, instead of being blunt. They have an English gun, firing 42-pound shell, similar to those at Yorktown. They have also a number of 10-pound Parrott guns, but they generally make miserable firing.

While Professor Lowe had one of his balloons up the other day, they opened on him, and the first shot passed between the roges; the next fell within a hundred yards of where the detail of men were holding the guy ropes, but did not explode; he made a descent, and reporting the location of mat-ters, anchored his balloon in a ravine. Not to be outdone, the professor soon had a quantity of shovels and spades brought, and in a short time he had a sufficient number of bomb proofs thrown up, from which the men could operate the ropes in safety. He thinks he is perfectly secure in the ear of the balloon, when up, at any hight, as they must fire at a great elevation to hit him, and the chances are a hundred to one in favor of missing both the car and bal-

And the correspondent of the New York World, writing on the same day, says: "EVACUATION."

I'm sick of that word. I hope the enemy is. But I am bound to record any symptoms of it on his part. What if we should have another-skedaddle? I don't think we will. But here are the facts of to-day, and as they are the freshest, newest and most startling of my day's gallop in this broiling sun, the public must have them to cuss and at their breakfast. Item-Our forces at Mechanicsville report that while the enemy's pickets are as strong as ever, their camps have been suddenly and exdepleted. They cannot tell whither they have gone. Rem-Hooker, Kearney and Richardson report from the left that the strong force of pickets heretofore maintained by the enemy have been withdrawn-how far, they are now endeavoring to ascertain. Item-The enemy dinembly in front of our right, their strong point, are as strong as ever, far aught we can see, and have been more than usually noisy with their artillery today. All this is readily accounted for if they really are leaving. Rem.—During all last night there was distinctly heard, throughout the whole of our lines, the roar Brandeis & Crawford and rumble of artillery and baggage wagons over the roads toward Richmond, beside a confusion of other sounds, all indicating a hurried departure of unwieldy substances.

We will pay the highest market price for all kinds of surface of the convergation.

Item.—This morning hurried departure of unwieldy substan just like an evacuation. Item .- This morning we have heard eight or ten heavy and rumbling sounds, like distant explosionsjust like those at Yorktown—and subsequently several thick and dark clouds of noke Richmondward, as if hanging over the city, attracted all our eyes, and we-

Yorktown and Corinth have defined the primary symptoms of an evacuation as dis-tinctly as those of a case of small-pos. We ought to know it if it is so. We will But, then, the enemy can't skedaddle.

Sewing Machine! WARRANTED THE BEST IN THE MARKET. Elias Howe, Jr., and S. H. Roper's Com bined Patents.

Straight-Line Movements, Original Transverse Shuttle, and Periphery Clamp Feed-Wheel.

THESE SEWING MACHINES COMBINE THE most recent improvements, are nearly noiseless when in operation, run with the greatest case and radility, and are better adapted for general purposes and family use than any other. They are not liable to get a cut of order, are exceedingly simple, and are made expressly for real practical utility; they do every variety of sewing, from the finest moven tissue to the heaviest woolen goods, both tailoring and fine leather work. Any person may learn to operate them in a very short time. The great difficulty with all other old-style Machines is too much complication, requiring so much constant adjustment, and such an amount of mechanical skill and ingenuity to use them to advantage, as to render them of little comparative value.

But the Sewing Machines manufactured by Greenman & True are not liable to those objections, as any person, on even a moment's examination, will readily discover. They will do more and better work than any other Machine ever offered to the public, making the most beautiful lock-stitch, alike on both sides. Send for an off-hand specimen of sewing upon any material you wish, and you will then see how it is done.
